

GENERATION CONNECT SERVICE CAMP 2020

A week-long educational and fun opportunity where teens will engage in meaningful volunteer projects and learn important life skills.

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Generation Connect is a program that promotes intergenerational relationships between youth and elders.

From June 8-12, Generation Connect will hold its annual Service Camp, a week-long educational and fun opportunity where teens will engage in meaningful volunteer projects and learn important life skills.

Selected teens will:

- ◆ Volunteer in direct service at A.G. Rhodes Wesley Woods, a nursing home near Emory University.
- ◆ Earn service hours towards graduation or club requirements.
- ◆ Gain leadership skills through volunteer management and advocacy.
- ◆ Engage in meaningful activities that will enhance a college application.
- ◆ Learn about various careers in health care, and work alongside industry experts.
- ◆ Make new friends and have fun!

DETAILS

When? Mon., June 8 - Fri., June 12, 9:00am– 4:00pm

Where? A.G. Rhodes Wesley Woods at 1819 Clifton Road NE, Atlanta 30329.

How Much? The cost is $100 per student which includes meals and snacks, a t-shirt, a field trip, all expenses associated with volunteer projects, and an end-of-camp party.

REQUIREMENTS

Rising ninth through twelfth graders may apply. Teens must be available for the duration of the camp. Teens who are 18 years old must also complete and pass a criminal background check.

APPLY ONLINE BY Friday, May 1:

bit.ly/AGR-GC

Questions? Contact Kim Beasley, Director of Volunteer Services & Community Engagement, at 404-245-4111 or kbeasley@agrholmes.org.

“The biggest thing I learned while at A.G. Rhodes was that even though we are all parts of different generations, we aren’t very different from each other after all.”

— Andra, tenth grader

A program partnership with:

A.G. Rhodes
COMMUNITY • WELLNESS • CARE

pebble
tossers